Superstore operates a retail business selling a wide range of products across multiple categories and regions.

Management requires an understanding of sales and profit trends, customer segments, product performance, and operational factors such as discounts and shipping.

Objective of Analysis

- Examine the overall sales profit performance.
- Identify high-performing and low-performing products, categories, and regions
- Evaluate the contribution of customer segments to revenue and profitability.
- Understand the impact of discounts and operational factors on profitability.
- Understand the impact of discounts and operational factors on profitability
- Provide recommendations to optimize Business Performance

2. Introduction

3. Data Description

Dataset Description

- This analysis utilizes the Superstore Sales Dataset, a transactional retail dataset containing over 50,000 sales records collected from a global superstore operation. The dataset captures information related to customer purchases, product categories, sales performance, profitability, geographic markets, shipping operations, and customer segments.
- The data provides a comprehensive view of business operations across multiple regions and product lines, making it suitable for evaluating sales performance, profitability trends, customer behavior, and operational efficiency.

Data Source

- Source: Kaggle – Superstore Sales Dataset

Dataset Scope

- The dataset covers retail transactions across various product categories and customer segments. Key information includes:
- Sales and profitability measures
- Product and category information
- Customer segment characteristics
- Regional and market performance
- Shipping and order fulfillment details
- Discount and pricing information
- The breadth of the dataset enables both descriptive and diagnostic analyses to identify factors influencing business performance and profitability.

4. Data Quality Check

Before analysis, the dataset was examined for data quality issues:

Missing values: no missing value was found

Duplicates: Duplicate order entries were checked and will be handled during cleaning.

Date formatting: All order and ship dates were verified for proper date format.

Numeric columns: Sales, profit, quantity, discount, and shipping cost will be checked for consistency and proper numeric formatting.

Company Overview

From 147 countries across multiple continents, the organization processed a total of 51,290 orders, resulting in a sales volume of 178,312 units.

The total revenue generated was $12,642,905.00, yielding a net profit of $1,469,034.82.

The profit margin, representing the proportion of profit relative to sales, stands at 11.62%.

Question

Which products and categories drive revenue and profitability?

Tasks:

- Sales by categories
- Profit by categories
- Sales by sub-categories
- Profit by sub-categories

	Furniture	Office Supplies	Technology
Profit Margin	6.98%	13.69%	13.99%

5.1 Product Categories Analysis on Profit and Sales

In terms of revenue/sales, Technology had the highest share ($4,744,691.00), with a 13.99% profit margin, making it the top-performing category in profit. This was followed by Furniture, with revenue of $1,234,567.00, making it the second-best sales-performing category; however, it contributed only 6.98%, making it the lowest contributor to profit. Office Supplies generated total revenue of $1,234,568.00 and contributed 13.69%, making it the second-highest contributor to profit.

Sub-Category Revenue and Profit Insights

1. TOP REVENUE DRIVERS

- Phones: $1,706,874 in revenue, contributing the largest share of total sales.
- Copiers: $1,509,439 in revenue, the second-largest.
- Chairs: $1,501,682 in revenue, third-highest.
- Insight: Phones dominate revenue, but high sales alone do not guarantee profitability.

2. TOP PROFIT GENERATORS

- Copiers: $258,567 profit, the highest absolute profit.
- Phones: $216,717 profit, second-highest.
- Bookcases: $161,924 profit, third-highest.
- Insight: Copiers not only sell well but convert revenue efficiently into profit.

Sub-Category Revenue and Profit Insights

3. HIGHEST PROFIT MARGIN

- Paper: 24.23%
- Labels: 20.44%
- Accessories: 17.30%
- Copiers: 17.13%
- Art: 15.57%
- Insight: These categories are most efficient in turning sales into profit, even if revenue isn't the highest.

4. CATEGORIES WITH LOW MARGIN

- Machines: 7.56%
- Bookcases: 11.04%
- Chairs: 9.45%
- Tables: -8.47% (loss-making)
- Insight: Tables are the only category operating at a loss, requiring urgent review of pricing, discounts, or cost structures. Chairs and Bookcases are moderate but may need efficiency improvements.

Customer Segment Findings

Task 1: Sales by Customer Segment

Task 2: Profit by Customer Segment

Task 3: Profit Margin by Customer Segment

Task 4: Average Order Value (AOV) by Segment

Task 5: Orders by Segment

Task 6: Customer Distribution by Market

CUSTOMER SEGMENT SHARE ON INCOME AND PROFIT

Metrics	Customers Segment
	Consumer	Corporate	Home Office
Total Revenue	$6,508,141.00	$3,824,808.00	$2,309,956.00
Total Profit	$749,239.78	$442,785.86	$277,009.18
Revenue Share	51.48%	30.25%	18.27%
Profit Share	51.00%	30.14%	18.86%
Profit Margin	11.51%	11.58%	11.99%

Customer Segment - Insights 1

Insights

- Consumer Segment: Generates the largest revenue ($6.51M) and profit ($749K), contributing 51.48% of total revenue and 51.00% of total profit.
- Corporate Segment: Second largest contributor in both revenue ($3.82M) and profit ($443K), with 30.25% revenue share and 30.14% profit share.
- Home Office Segment: Smallest contributor ($2.31M revenue, $277K profit), but maintains a healthy profit margin (11.99%).
- Profit Margin Insight: Across all segments, margins are fairly uniform: Consumer (11.51%), Corporate (11.58%), Home Office (11.99%), showing efficient profitability across customer groups.

Key Takeaways

While Consumer customers dominate in volume and absolute profit, Home Office delivers slightly higher efficiency per dollar sold, and Corporate remains a strong middle performer.

Insight 2: Customer Segment Performance

Customers	Total Orders	Share of Total Orders	AOV
Consumer	26518	51.70%	$245.42
Corporate	15429	30.08%	$247.90
Home Office	9343	18.22%	$247.24

Insight

Consumer customers remain the primary revenue engine of the business, contributing 51.7% of total revenue and generating the highest number of orders (26,518). Interestingly, despite the substantial difference in revenue contribution, average order values are remarkably similar across all customer segments, ranging from $245.42 to $247.90.

Key Takeaways

Revenue differences are driven primarily by order volume rather than spending behavior. For now, product pricing analysis has not yet been introduced.

Share of Profit/Revenue

Insight 3:

Customer
Distribution
Across
Market

	Africa	APAC	Canada	EMEA	EU	LATAM	US
Consumer - Profit Share	53.75%	50.92%	54.32%	58.16%	50.61%	54.43%	46.83%
Consumer - Revenue Share	54.07%	50.67%	53.36%	50.46%	52.06%	52.38%	50.56%
Corporate - Profit Share	23.28%	30.01%	28.27%	28.47%	33.10%	26.11%	32.12%
Corporate - Revenue Share	26.15%	30.08%	28.86%	31.08%	31.31%	29.81%	30.74%
Home Office - Profit Share	22.97%	19.07%	17.42%	13.36%	16.29%	19.46%	21.05%
Home Office - Revenue Share	19.79%	19.26%	17.77%	18.47%	16.62%	17.81%	18.70%

Customer Distribution Across Market

- Consumer customers consistently represent approximately half of total revenue across all markets, ranging from 50.46% in EMEA to 54.07% in Africa.
- Corporate customers account for roughly one-third of revenue across regions, while Home Office customers contribute between 16% and 20%.
- The similarity of customer composition across markets suggests that the company operates under a relatively standardized customer structure globally, with no market exhibiting a substantially different segment profile.
